

Belfast Mill

Originally titled "Aragon Mill" most people are surprised to know that this isn't a traditional Irish song at all! Si Khan, (the composer) is from the southern USA and is still touring. Finbar Furey changed a few lines to accommodate Belfast and the song as most people know it was born.

I've always loved the feel of this song. This was one of the first Celtic songs I ever remember hearing. A local band back in Newfoundland used to play it all the time and I loved it. This is a really fun song for us to play and one of the reasons I enjoy doing the soft seat shows as it's not incorporated into our main set-list.
