I've followed this band for years and can tell you they were always one of my favorite live groups. When they finally released Hoist the Sails I was blown away by the CD. The original material was amazing, and a couple of tracks have turned into my favorites of any group going. Hoist the Sails (the song) has amazing energy and has been labeled by some maritime friends of mine as their favorite east coast anthem. The guitar solo in Seagull's Cry is incredible & gives me goose bumps everytime I hear it. There really isn't a weak track on this album and it hardly ever leaves my CD player. I can recommend this to anyone. Great job guys!
